

HONORS OF NAVAL FOR HEROIC DEAD

President to Join in Tribute to Men Who Gave Lives at Vera Cruz.

SHIP OF WAR BRINGING BODIES TO NEW YORK

Exercises Scheduled for Monday.
Following Arrival, at the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

Tribute to the boys whose lives were lost in the occupation of Vera Cruz will be paid Monday in New York, with the President delivering a eulogy, with a speech at city hall by Mayor Mitchell, with a naval and military parade and with 500 school children singing the national anthem as the bodies are borne past city hall. Both indices of Congress will be represented by large committees at the services.

By unanimous vote the Senate today adopted the House resolution for the appointment of a joint committee of seven senators and twenty-one representatives to represent Congress.

Vice President Marshall appointed Senators Robinson, Salisbury, O'Gorman, Vandenberg, Gallinger, Kenyon and Brady members of the Senate committee. The special train with the congressmen aboard probably will leave Washington at midnight Sunday in charge of Sergeant-at-Arms Higgins of the Senate.

Reception of Bodies.

Secretary Daniels has approved plans for receiving the bodies when they arrive at New York. The armored cruiser Montana with the bodies aboard will reach New York Sunday afternoon. She will stay down the bay until early Monday morning, when she will proceed to an anchorage off the Battery, conveyed by the battleship Wyoming and the Mayflower, the President's flag.

The bodies will be landed at pier A, North river, from where the procession through the city streets will go to the navy yard, in Brooklyn.

The Montana carries seventeen bodies. The three bodies of residents of New England will be received at the navy yard, which will start for Boston with them Monday afternoon.

The fourteen bodies will be carried to the navy yard upon caissons to be furnished by the 1st Battery of Field Artillery, N. G. N. Y. with an escort for each body from the same organization.

The bodies will be escorted by a detachment of marines and sailors, numbering 200, from the Tennessee and the Wyoming. Other military organizations will participate including the naval militia, which will send a full battalion. There will be a company of policemen.

Flags will be at half-staff all over the city and public buildings will be in mourning dress. It is planned to deck the approaches to the Manhattan bridge in black.

President Only Orator.

The religious exercises over the bodies will be held at 11 o'clock in the marine parade grounds on the Flushing avenue side of the navy yard.

President Wilson will deliver the only address. The religious ceremonies will be conducted by Naval Chaplain W. G. Cassard at the Naval Academy.

Prayer by Rabbi Wise of New York will follow, and the benediction will be pronounced by Rev. Father John P. Chidwick, who was chaplain of the battleship Maine when she was blown up in Havana harbor.

After the ceremonies in the yard the bodies will be disposed of according to the wishes of the nearest relatives. Secretary Daniels has offered burial plots in the national cemetery at Arlington for the bodies of the fallen.

President Wilson will leave here Sunday night and will accompany the procession from the Battery to the navy yard.

Twenty-one-gun salute when he enters a navy yard or home a soldier's uniform, it is said, however, that in this instance he will request that the formality be dispensed with and that those honors be paid only to the bodies of the sailors and marines.

Secretary Daniels and a party of military officers will be on hand at 12 o'clock on the President's yacht Mayflower, which will join the funeral cortege outside. They will accompany her to New York. The battleship Wyoming will meet the Montana Sunday morning and accompany her into the harbor.

Gen. Horace Porter heads the committee of citizens of New York which will receive the bodies.

the Belasco Theater, has a corps of workmen busy today, and promises that the theater will be adorned more lavishly than any playhouse in this city ever has been.

Miss Arvilla McDonough has opened headquarters on the third floor of the Corcoran building for the Ohio women who will come for the demonstration, and will entertain them at luncheon at the hotel Madison just preceding the Belasco meeting. All of the woman folk in the family of Representative Proctor of Ohio will march in the parade.

The suffragists have been promised ample police protection, and to untoward incidents which marked the suffrage procession here March 3, 1913, are looked for.

Thousand Voices in Chorus.

After the parade, which starts at 3 o'clock, the suffrage advocates will announce their arrival at the Capitol to Congress by a chorus of 1,000 women's voices on the east steps of the Capitol. This chorus will chant "The March of the Women," led by Mrs. Appoline Blair, president of the Rollin Club. Members of this chorus are to wear white.

Members of the Women's Relief Corps of the G. A. R., who expect to march in the parade, have been requested to assemble at 2 p.m. at the H. Street entrance of the Shoreham Hotel. Those desiring to ride in automobiles have been advised to apply for reservations to the chairman of this section, Mrs. J. C. Kelton, 1825 Kalamazoo road.

New York is sending two large delegations, one in a special train in charge of Mrs. John Rogers, Jr., which will include the executive officers of the Women's Political Union. Among those who will be on the train are: Mrs. Harriet Sutton Blatch, Mrs. John Rogers, Jr., Miss Anna Connelley, Mrs. Norman de la Whitehouse, Miss Cornelia Bryce, Mrs. Charles S. Whitman, Mrs. John Rogers, Jr., Mrs. Lewis Deland, Mrs. Benjamin R. Tilton, Mrs. Henry Wise Miller, Mrs. Calvin Tomkins and Mrs. Emanuel Einstein.

Formation of the Parade.

Following the meeting in the Belasco Theater, the parade will form upon the

COMMISSIONERS PLAN TO DEVELOP MARKETS

Will Disregard Politics in Selecting Successor to Col. William C. Haskell.

That the Commissioners intend to disregard politics in the selection of a successor to Col. William C. Haskell, late superintendent of weights, measures and markets of the District of Columbia, became known today.

Impressed with the importance of developing the municipal markets in close co-operation with the Department of Agriculture, the District board, according to a statement by Commissioner Siddons, hope to have the aid of the big federal institution in selecting a suitable man for the place made vacant by Col. Haskell's sudden death. There is every prospect that an appointment may be made at an early date. Numerous candidates are in the field and many of them are strongly backed.

Commissioners See Opportunity.

"In filling the vacancy of superintendent of weights, measures and markets, caused by the recent death of Col. W. C. Haskell," said Commissioner Siddons today, "the Commissioners believe that an opportunity is presented to work in close co-operation with the Department of Agriculture in the development of our municipal markets in a manner which it is believed may be made exceedingly useful and productive of the best results financially and otherwise. Within the year the Secretary of Agriculture has established in his department a division of markets and this division is making a study of the subject that is country wide. During the next twelve months this division will give special attention to municipal markets, and it may be that at the capital a demonstration may be made by the co-operative action of the department and the municipal government that will mean much for the people locally as well as an example to the rest of the country. For these reasons the Commissioners hope to have the aid of the Department of Agriculture in selecting a man for the position who has made a study of the subject, who has had practical experience and who is imbued with the spirit which is necessary to make successful the plan outlined above."

NINE JURORS OBTAINED.

Resumption of the Trial of Former Police Lieut. Becker.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Charles Becker, former police lieutenant, appeared in a new spring suit at the opening of the third day of his trial this morning on the charge of having instigated the murder of Herman Rosenthal. Because he had not been allowed to receive his wife in the Tomba he came into the courtroom a half hour before the forenoon session opened to talk to her. The pair drew away from others in the room and talked in low tones. At 10:30 the work of se-
